

Fred Kirschenmann's Pertinent Lectures and Presentations

September 22, 2006. "The Basics of Agricultural Ethics" Keynote. Washington State Food and Nutrition Council. Des Moines, Washington

August 23, 2006 "Animals in an Organic System: Exploring the Ecological, Social and Economic Functions in Organic Agriculture. Keynote. Minneapolis, MN

August 10, 2006. "Potential for a New Generation of Biodiversity in Agro-Ecosystems of the Future" Ecological Society of America Conference. Memphis, TN

July 18, 2006. "The Food and Farm Bill" Presented at the Society for Nutrition Education annual conference. San Francisco, CA.

June 10, 2006. "Revitalizing Rural Communities: how Churches Can Help" Keynote. Northern Plains United Church of Christ annual conference. Bismarck, ND.

May 23, 2006. "Changing Structure of Agriculture and Future opportunities" Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Humanities. Keynote. Future Farming and Rural Life in Wisconsin conference. Menomonee, Wisc.

April 26, 2006. "First Principles for a Healthy Sustainable Food System" University of Massachusetts School of Health and Environment, Lowell, Mass.

April 25, 2006 "The Farm/Food/Health Connection" Edward and Nancy Dodge Lecture. Johns Hopkins School of Public Health, Baltimore, Maryland.

February 16, 2006. "Challenges Facing Agriculture in the 21st Century" Tiffin Conference Series. Lethbridge Community College. Alberta, Canada.

January 8, 2006. "Transforming Agriculture for a New Era" Ecological Society of America conference. Merida, Mexico

November 17, 2005 Food Med Conference, Keynote. "The Farm/Food/Health Connection" Kaiser-Permanente Hospital Chain. Oakland, CA.

October 13, 2005, Bentley Lecture. University of Alberta, Canada

May 2004, 12th Annual D.C. Smith Memorial Lecture, Department of Agronomy University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI.

March 24, 2004, "Being At Home," Journey's Home Lecture Series, Washington College Center for Environment and Society, Chestertown, MD.

March 4, 2004, "Different Approaches to New Solutions" Livestock and Our Environment--Scientific Truths in a Changing Industry conference, Fargo, North Dakota.

January 21, 2004, "Lessons from Intensive Agriculture," presented at the Intensive Plantation Forestry in the Pacific Northwest conference, Portland, Oregon.

October 17, 2003, "Planting the Future: Transforming Agriculture," presented at the 14th Annual Bioneers Conference, San Rafael, CA.

September 7, 2003, "New Seeds and Breeds for a New Revolution in Agriculture," presented at the Seeds and Breeds Conference in Washington, D.C.

June 1-3, 2003, "New Seeds and Breeds for a New Revolution in Agriculture," presented at the National Agricultural Biotechnology Council annual conference, Washington State University, Seattle, WA.

May 2003, E.T. York Distinguished Lecturer, Auburn University College of Agriculture.

April 2003, "Is There a New Agrarianism in Our Future? Combining Agriculture, Conservation and Community," Institute of Environmental Sciences and the Miami/Oxford Network.

March 25, 2003, "Toward an Agricultural Research Agenda for the 21st Century," presented at the annual meeting of the Baker Council, ISU Department of Agronomy, Ames, IA.

January 16, 2003, "And Then What? Attending to the context of our innovations," Presented at the Department of Chemical Engineering 2002-2003 Seminar Series, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.

December 5, 2002, "What Constitutes Sound Science?" Sigma Xi, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.

April 25, 2002, "The Future of Agrarianism: Where Are We Now?" Keynote address, Considering the Unsettling of America 25 Year Later, Georgetown College, Georgetown, KY.

December 18, 2001, "A Pig's Tale: Marketing Stories for New Value Chains," Niche and Value Added Marketing: What's in It For You? conference, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.

March 27, 2001, Senate Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Committee, Testimony on research needs in new Farm Bill. Washington, D.C.

March 21, 2001, "Small Farms, A Renewed Opportunity." Keynote address to the North Central Small Farms Conference, Springfield, IL.

March 16, 2001, "Two Visions for Agriculture: Which Will We Choose?" Keynote address to the Upper Midwest Organic Conference, LaCrosse, WI.

March 3, 2001, "Organic Agriculture: Enclaves of Purity or Ecological Model?" Keynote address to the Michigan Governor's Organic Conference, Lansing, MI.

February 20, 2001, "The Loss of Family Farms is Neither Inevitable nor Desirable." Keynote address to the Missouri Small Fruit Growers, Springfield, MO.

January 20, 2001, "Biotechnology's Claims: Some Assumptions We Need to Question." Proceedings of Genetic Engineering and Food for the World. Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, New York City, NY.

January 18, 2001, "Alternatives to Agricultural Biotechnology." Proceedings of Biotechnology: Progress or Problem? National Resources, Agriculture and Engineering Service Cooperative Extension, Binghamton, NY.

January 13, 2001, "Farmers: Who Needs Them?" Keynote address to Practical Farmers of Iowa Winter Workshop and Annual Conference, Ames, IA..

December 4, 2000, "Opportunities for Family Farms." Keynote address to Washington State Horticultural Association, Yakima, WA.

November 3, 2000, "Genetic Engineering in Agriculture: Some Underlying Questions." Address to Genetically Modified Food: Risks, Rewards & Realities. Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters, Madison, WI.

September 28, 2000, "Challenges Facing Philosophy as We Enter the 21st Century: Reshaping the Way the Human Species Feeds Itself." Willard O. Eddy Lecture, Colorado State University, Boulder, CO.

September 12, 2000, "Questions We Aren't Asking in Agriculture: Beginning the Journey Toward a New Vision." Shivvers Lecture, Iowa Beta Chapter, Gamma Sigma Delta, Ames, IA.

Earlier Publications:

"Biotechnology on the Ground: What Kind of Future Can Farmers Expect, and What Kind Should They Create?" National Agriculture Biotechnology Council Proceedings, June 1999.

"Can We Say "Yes" to Agriculture Using the Precautionary Principle: A Farmer's Perspective," in Protecting Public Health and the Environment, (ed) Carolyn Raffensperger and Joel Tickner, 1999. Washington, D.C.: Island Press.

"Organic Agriculture and the World Food Supply," in Taste Life, (ed) David Richard and Dorie Byers, 1998.

Building the Future of North Dakota Agriculture, 1998. Bismarck, ND: Commission on the Future of Agriculture. (Kirschenmann was a member of the 14-person COFA Working Group that produced the final report.)

"Expanding the Vision of Sustainable Agriculture," in For All Generations, (ed) Patrick Madden. WSAA Publication, 1997.

"Can Organic Agriculture Feed the World: And is That the Right Question?" in For All Generations, (ed) Patrick Madden. WSAA Publication, 1997.

"On Becoming Lovers of the Soil," in For All Generations, (ed) Patrick Madden. World Sustainable Agriculture Association (WSAA) Publication, 1997, pp. 101-114.

"My Father's Garden," Award Winning Video published and produced by Miranda Smith Productions, 1996.

Planting the Future: Developing an Agriculture that Sustains Land and Community. 1995. A Final Report of the Northwest Area Foundation Rural Development Research Initiative. Ames, IA: Iowa State University Press. (Kirschenmann was a member of the steering committee for the eight-state research initiative.)

A Better Row to Hoe: The Economic, Environmental and Social Impact of Sustainable Agriculture. 1995. Northwest Area Foundation Rural Development Research Initiative Progress Report. St. Paul, MN: Northwest Area Foundation.

"Reinvigorating Rural Economies," in Research in Rural Sociology and Development, (ed) Harry K. Schwarzweller and Thomas A. Lyson, Vol. 6, 1995.

"Learning to Farm Ecologically on the Prairie," Sustainable Agriculture Symposium Proceedings, Kansas State University, April 20, 1994.

Farming Practices for a Sustainable Agriculture in North Dakota, 1993. S.A. Clancy, J.C. Gardner, C.E. Grygiel, M.E. Biondini, G.K. Johnson. Carrington, ND: North Dakota State University Carrington Research Extension Center. (Kirschenmann was a member of the Northern Plains Sustainable Agriculture Society that cooperated in the North Dakota component of the Northwest Area Foundation Rural Development Research Initiative.)

"Rediscovering American Agriculture," Word and World, Summer, 1993.

"Dancing with Nature," Earth Ethics, Spring 1993.

"The Ecology-Economy-Ethic Connection in Land Use" in Covenant for a New Creation (ed) Carol S. Robb and Carl J. Casebolt, Orbis Press, 1991.